JOINT DISCUSSIONS.

In order that the voters of the First District may have an opportunity to hear both sides of the financial question candidly discussed, Mr. Williams has invited Mr. Parker to enter into an arrangement whereby the two candidates for Congress can meet in joint discussion at ten different places in the District during the present campaign. It is hoped that Mr. Parker will accept the proposition made by Mr. Williams. This is the proper way to discuss political questions, especially the issue which divides the parties in this Congressional District. It has the advantage of drawing out men of all parties, and of giving them an opportunity to hear both sides discussed. We hope Mr. Parker will not refuse because Mr. Williams has a reputation as a fluent and an eloquent speaker, and for that reason may possibly have the advantage in many respects over his opponent. Mr. Williams will not use this power to the detriment of Mr. Parker. He doesn't propose to deal in rhetoric, elocution, finished sentences, or flights of eloquence but he proposes to meet him as a friend and an honorable opponent, and to discuss the financial question earnestly, intelligently, carefully, and in language made so plain that the humblest voter in the District can comprehend it. If Mr. Parker is thoroughly convinced of the righteousness of his cause, if he understands the meaning of the platforms upon which he is running for Congress, if he knows anything of the Greenback theory, he should be willing to meet Mr. Williams in joint discussion, and talk over the issues frankly and intelligently, so that the thousands who will flock to hear these friendly debates, will be interested and profited.

In promoting an intelligent understanding of the political questions about which there are vast differences of opinion, there is no agency so directly useful as this bringing of public speakers face to face upon the stand. If Mr. Parker has the right side of the financial question, he should have faith that it will be easy for him to impress the fact upon the minds of his hearers; and if the Republican party is in the right, then Mr. Williams will convince any man not blinded by prejudice nor hardened by partisanship, that the position taken by Republicans is infinitely the best for the workingman, for the manufacturer, for the farmer, and for the general prosperity of the country. We trust his zeal for his cause will induce Mr. Parker to promptly accept the friendly challenge sent by Mr. Williams.

THE FUNERAL OF JACOB FISHER.

All that there is mortal of Jacob Fisher was consigned to the tomb on Thursday afternoon at five o'clock. The deceased was one of the best known and most highly esteemed citizens of Rock county. In Janesville he had a large circle of warm friends. For more than thirty years he had been more or less identified with the material interests of the city, and consequently became intimately associated with a large number of our business and professional men. Deeply appreciating his worth as a neighbor and his strong character as a citizen and as a business man, the Directors of the Janesville Cotton Manufacturing Company, with whom Mr. Fisher was associated, chartered a train at their individual expense, and decided to attend the funeral in a body. A large number of our citizens were invited by the Directors to accompany them to Orlorville, where the services were to be held. A party of seventy left the city at two o'clock, and reached Orlorville at 2:22. Dr. J. B. Whiting was designated as marshal, and on arriving at the depot the party formed into a procession, and meeting the funeral cortege near the station, marched to the Methodist church in which the services were held. The attendance was quite large, neighbors and friends coming from all directions and from far and near, to pay their last respects to one whose life and character they deeply honored. The church was filled to its utmost capacity, and hundreds were unable to gain admission. The solemn services were conducted by Rev. H. Sewell, of the Asbury M. E. church, Milwaukee, assisted by Rev. Mr. Eldredge, of Footville. That well known hymn, "Jesus, lover of my soul," was sung by the choir, after which Mr. Eldredge offered prayer. Mr. Sewell then read some scriptural selections, when that familiar and appropriate hymn was sung—"Rock of Ages, cleft for me."

The sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Sewell, taking for his text, "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me—John 14:1. The sermon was one of special fitness, and of remarkable worth. The speaker said in this world we need sympathy in affliction. Every person needs the sympathy of others when struggling with the responsibilities of life. Trouble and sorrow are on all hands; we cannot escape it no matter whichever way we turn. The sympathy and the consolation which the human family need, have been sought after in many ways, but there is only one source from which it can be obtained. God has offered it to us, and the great question is with all, shall we accept it? From this line of thought the speaker passed on to notice some of the personal traits and characteristics of the deceased. He has been eminently a successful business man. His work was done, and it was done well. He came to Rock county as early as 1846, bought land at government price, made a home, went to work, and had lived to see his family grow up, and even his grand children to recognize him. He had left them a legacy as well as the community, that of a successful man. While he was not a member of any church, he was a firm believer in God and an upright man. He had great respect for religion, and never failed to contribute, and that liberally, for the support of the church. He was also a patriot, a strong friend of the government, and during the war he gave freely and generously for the maintenance of the army. He was also a successful farmer, an enterprising business man, a true neighbor whom all delighted to honor, and as a husband and a father, he had few equals and no superiors. But he had gone; his life work was done, and the speaker believed that God had something else in store for him. He was glad to say this for Jacob Fisher, a man whom he deeply honored for his stern integrity and goodness of heart.

He was glad to say this for Jacob Fisher, a man whom he deeply honored for his stern integrity and goodness of heart.

After the sermon, the lid of the casket was removed, and the hundreds of sympathizing friends took a last look of one they had long known and highly esteemed in business and social circles. The pall bearers were taken from the Directors of the Cotton Manufacturing Company, and consisted of Dr. H. Palmer, A. J. Ray, Chester Bailey, F. S. Eldred, Levi B. Carle, Peter Myers, William A. Lawrence, and E. C. Smith. The casket was then placed in the hearse, and the long procession moved slowly and silently to the cemetery a half a mile southeast of the village, where the remains were interred, the services being concluded by Rev. Mr. Sewell, the deceased's former pastor. The special train bearing the Janesville friends left Orlorville at 5:55 and reached Janesville at 6:20. While returning home Dr. Palmer, on behalf of the Directors, tender their thanks to Dr. Whiting for the services he rendered acting as marshal of the procession.

Nobody seems willing to open the political campaign in Wisconsin this year. Senator Howe is standing in the stablest Green Bay with his blanket on, making no sign, but probably waiting for a sign to be given him. Charles Williams of the First District, who is one of the best stumpers in the west, has not been heard from since his renomination, and Caswell, Barclay, Humphrey, and Pound are as quiet as any mice, and Carpenter has gone back to Washington. "Perhaps after they are all renominated we shall hear from them," Tribune.

The Tribune need not borrow any Trouble about the campaign in Wisconsin. The Republican banner is unfurled to the breeze. The Democrats and the Greenbackers are doing splendid work for the Republicans. The former are at work all over the State clearing the way for a grand Republican victory this fall. When the party wants help, or gets into somewhat of a tight place, the Democrats never fail to make a blunder favorable to the Republicans, and this year they are aiding us with double hands. The campaign on the part of the Republicans, will open in Wisconsin shortly after the first of September, and it will be conducted vigorously until November.

Hon. H. L. Humphrey, of Hudson, was renominated for Congress yesterday, at the Republican Convention held at Eau Claire. Judge Humphrey is a strong man personally, strong in character, and of excellent ability. There is no doubt of his election, the Seventh District being intensely Republican. Two years ago his majority was 7,482. He has not lost any of his popularity since then, and should the Greenbackers swallow the Democrats, the Judge's majority will be largely increased.

Well done LaCrosse. At the Democratic Congressional Convention of the Seventh District, held at Sparta on Thursday, a hard money resolution was offered by the LaCrosse delegation which was defeated by 25 to 9, whereupon the delegation left the Convention. C. D. Parker, the Greenback candidate was nominated by a vote of 24 to 2. It is said that Parker is a hard money man, but he is running on two soft money platforms.

Butler is hopeful. The Springfield Republican publishes this item: "General, I hope to live to see you inaugurated President of the United States," said an admirer after the New Haven speech. General Butler pressed his hand and warmly responded, "All right, sir; that will come in time."

Kearney visited the President on Thursday, and held an interview with him. Dennis attempted to do all the talking, but the President in his affable and winning way, brought the boy to a halt, and gave him some facts and figures, and a good installment of advice, which the young and hot orator will not soon forget.

Tilden is a sly old fox. He is yet on the still-hunt at Gracery Park, and while Tammany rears and storms about in the political field, Samuel and his little army of clerks and secretaries are huring on his chances in 1890.

AT MEMPHIS.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 29.—New cases to-day, ninety-nine; deaths, seventy. At 2 p. m. to-day a drenching rain commenced falling, and continued up to 7 o'clock. The death roll to-day exceeds that of any day during the scourge of 1873, but it is feared, owing to the wet, damp weather to-night, will, in turn, be exceeded by tomorrow's mortality report.

Among the new cases to-day is the Mother Superior at LaSalle. The dead roll includes the names of Father Martin Walsh and McGarney White. Fathers Bokel and Maher are in a dying condition.

The corps of physicians employed by the physicians in doing efficient work, but have more than they can attend to. Information has been received that Dr. E. T. Easley, of Little Rock, with a corps of nurses started for this city to-night. Scores of tenders of professional service have been received from physicians in different parts of the country.

A number of deaths from fever are reported from country places adjacent to Memphis, the latest being that of S. G. Ryan, a merchant of this city.

At the Board of Health meeting this morning Dr. Lawrence reported a fearful condition of affairs among the colored people. In some localities they are crowded together in narrow, filthy quarters, and are an easy prey to disease and death. Hundreds of them have been sick for days without medical attention.

AT NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29.—Weather showery and warm in the morning, but a heavy rain and thunder storm lasted from 2 to 4 in the afternoon. The streets were flooded throughout the city, and in some quarters impassable for more than an hour.

The Howard Association to-day responded to 113 new applications for relief, and the Young Men's Christian Association to forty-three cases. The funds of the last named association are nearly exhausted.

From noon to 6 p. m., twenty-six deaths have been reported at the office of the Board of Health.

AT GREENADA.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 29.—The Howard Association has received the following: GREENADA, Miss., Aug. 29.—No material increase in the fever, Major Butler P. Anderson was taken down last evening. He is doing well to-day. Must have champagne to-morrow if possible. Weather bad. "W. STONE, M. D."

The Howards forwarded the supplies asked for.

AT VICKSBURG.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Aug. 29.—One hundred twenty-nine new cases during the past twenty-four hours, and seventeen deaths. Among the deaths at a late hour this morning is J. P. Allen, city editor of the Vicksburg Herald. Mr. E. A. Barber died this morning. Drs. Robbins and Balfour are convalescing, also the Rev. Mr. Galloway. The Rev. Father McManus is down with the fever. Hereafter physicians will report to the Howard Association.

The following is sent in answer to many offers of services:

GREEN COUNTY.

Nominations of the Greenbackers for County Offices.

MONROE, Wis., Aug. 29.—The following nominations were made at the Greenback County Convention this afternoon: For sheriff, C. D. Woodson; clerk of the court, B. Sutherland; county clerk, Benedict Miller; register of deeds, L. G. Anderson, surveyor, D. H. Morgan; treasurer, J. E. Grammel; coroner, J. Wood; assembly, J. Berkeley and Daniel Brobst.

OBITUARY.

Death of Julius C. Chandler, Better Known as "Shanghai."

BARABOO, Aug. 29.—Julius C. Chandler more commonly known among journalists through this State as "Shanghai" Chandler, died at his home here at 7 o'clock last evening of dropsy.

THE CAPITAL CITY.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The census of Washington has just been completed, and shows a population of 131,000, 43,000 of whom are colored. There were found 22 colored persons over one hundred years old, one being reported as old as 110. There were seventy persons found whose ages were between 90 and 100.

A MINING COMPANY.

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 28.—The Secretary of State to-day issued a patent to the San Juan Central Mining Company, to operate mines in Colorado. Capital stock, $5,000,000, and 50,000 shares of $100 each with principal office at Boscobel, Wis.

It is now definitely arranged that President Hayes will be at Madison on Tuesday, September 10th, and will give a reception at the Capitol. The full programme of the Presidential visitation has not been made out. An effort will be made to induce the President to remain in Madison during Wednesday, so that his presence at the fair will be an attraction extraordinary, and hence profitable to the State Agricultural Society.

Charles D. Parker, Democratic Lieutenant-Governor under Taylor and Ladington, was nominated for Congress by the Greenbackers in the Seventh District several years ago. If now seems that the inflationists have got hold of the wrong man. He says he is not a Greenbacker, but in common with the Republicans wants the greenbacks redeemable in coin and as good as coin.

The Greenback platform of this district is opposed to the National banks and their notes, and yet Mr. Parker is a director and a stock-holder in the First National Bank of Beloit. It will be a capital thing for the Greenbackers and the Democrats to exhibit a little consistency in this campaign.

SECRETARY SHERMAN.

His Remarks to the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce—He Believes Good Times Are on Their Way Here.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Aug. 28.—At the close of the session of the Chamber of Commerce this noon, Secretary of the Treasury John Sherman was introduced to the merchants by President Hartwell. He greeted with cheers, and spoke substantially as follows:

GENTLEMEN: It gives me great pleasure to meet so many of the business men of Cincinnati, even for a brief period. I have a great deal to do with merchants, and take this opportunity to congratulate you that by the bounty of Divine Providence you will have to market the largest crop we have ever gathered, since the world was born, in this country. The only point of an unpleasant nature affecting the industrial interests is the misfortune which has befallen a large portion of the South, where yellow fever has spread the pall of distress among our Southern brethren.

I can congratulate you, also, that our currency is soon to be based upon the solid money of the world. [Applause.] I do not wish to talk politics to you, and do not intend to do so, but I suppose it is the common desire of all men engaged in business to have a stable, certain standing of value, and although you and I may differ as to the best means of obtaining it, and as to whether the means that have been adopted are the proper means, yet I believe it is the desire of the merchants of Cincinnati that their money shall be as good as the money of any country with which we trade; and that, I think, will soon be accomplished.

I take a hopeful view of our business affairs. After this week there will be an end of bankruptcies. All men who believe that they are not in a condition to pay their debts will have taken the benefit of the law provided for their relief. After Saturday next we will stand upon a better basis—upon the basis of our property, and on deserved credit. It has been the habit of one of your able and influential journals to charge me with all the bankruptcies of the country. If a grocer could not sell his goods because he had no money, or a saloon keeper could not sell beer enough to get rich, he took the short way of paying his debts, and this paper would announce the fact that he had been "Shermanized."

We have passed through a severe crisis. It has been common in all countries. A ray of hope has dawned on us. Every sign of business is hopeful. We do not owe Europe anything of any consequence. We have gone through the debt-paying process. A few years ago we were running in debt at the rate of $500,000,000 a year, but lately we have been paying off our debt at the rate of $100,000,000 a year. From this time we will be more prosperous. You who live in the heart of the great West, take heart in the transaction of your business, because I believe you have reached a sound basis upon which to conduct your business profitably—the basis of solid coin.

On descending from the stand, the Secretary was greeted with a general hand-shaking and complimentary remarks.

One of Life's Shadows.

At 5 o'clock the other morning a Second street wife followed her husband down to the gate as he was starting for down town, and kindly said to him:

"William, you know how badly I need a blighting dress."

"Yes, dear," he remarked, "but you know how hard up I am. As soon as I can see my way clear you shall have the dress and a new hat to boot. Be patient, be good, and your reward shall be great."

Forty minutes after he merged from a restaurant with a big basket and a fish pole, bound up the river. In the basket was a chicken, pickles, cake, fruit, pie and a bottle of liquid of rich color, and he was just lighting a twenty-cent cigar when his wife came along.

"What! you here?" he exclaimed.

"Yes, I was going to the market. Where are you going—what in that basket?"

"I was going to carry this fish pole around to a friend on Jefferson avenue," he modestly answered.

"And that basket?"

"This basket—well, I was going to take it to the orphan asylum as a present to the children. It is a donation from six leading citizens."

"William, I don't believe it!"

"Sh! Don't talk so loud!"

"William, I shall talk louder yet!" she exclaimed. "I'll bet you are going fishing!"

"Mary, have I ever deceived you?" he plaintively asked. "I never have! As a proof of my sincerity you can take this basket to the asylum yourself!"

"And I'll do it!" she promptly replied as she relived him of it.

"Mary, had I told you?"

"No, sir, I hadn't. You'd better hurry up with that fish-pole, as the man may want it, and be careful how you stand around in the hot sun!"

She left him there. He watched her take the car for home, and then he returned to the fish-pole and crossed the street and said to an acquaintance:

"I'm, I'm suffering with neuralgia and the excruciating of it till next week. Too bad, but we can never tell what a day may bring forth."

There was chicken and pickles and other good things on the table at dinner, but he never smiled. Even when his wife wished she was an orphan, if that was the way the gloom in his heart. It was only when she handed him the bottle he had so carefully tucked into the basket, and he saw it labeled: "Good for Little Children," that he said:

"Mary, it is an awful thing for a wife to get the impression that her husband is a cold blooded liar!"

"It must be," she replied as she took the other chicken leg—Free Press.

A Tried Remedy for Biliousness.

The influence of the bitters upon the great biliary gland is direct, powerful and speedily felt. The relief afforded is not spasmodic but complete and permanent. transactions which are being pushed with uncommon liveliness during these last days of the National Bankruptcy law. Nearly all the worthless securities in the New York stock market get into the hands of professional bankruptcy attorneys, who use them in this way. One broker says that many swindling mining and land concerns are kept alive by selling their stock to merchants who know it is worthless, and only take it as an exhibit in their assets.

Use of Carbolic Acid.

London Letter from Dr. Randall.

Dr. Peter Eade, physician to the Norfolk Hospital, advocates the use of carbolic acid, either pure or in strong solution with glycerine, applied directly and abundantly to the diseased surfaces, in carbuncles, boils, pustules, festering ringworm, pustular acne, syphilis, and other festering as well as scrofulous sores. This practice has, as you know, been in general use in America for quite a while past. The late Prof. Notot, of Mobile, first called attention to the value of carbolic acid injections made into carbuncles, and no one who has experienced the relief afforded by this treatment will ever apply any other. Dr. Notot thought it necessary to apply the acid in solution. Subsequent experience has shown that the acid is equally as efficacious if applied by means of ointments, while it can in this way be kept more continuously to the seat of the disease. But in whatever way used, if the acid be but in sufficient strength, it affords almost invariable and quick relief to the pain of either carbuncle, furuncle, or pustule.

Notice of General Election.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1878.

CITY AND COUNTY.

BRIEFLETS.

—Fish day.
—Go to Lappin's hall to-night.
—The shooters grumble at the scarcity of game.
—Is your autograph on the subscription paper?

—Chas. E. Jones has again been "resigned" by Danton's Spirit of the Turf.

—C. A. Willard, of West DePere, one of the most prominent Sunday school workers in the State, is in the city to-day.

—Some of the extremely modest ones object to circuses because there are bare-back riders. They are the same kind of folks who object because undressed kids are in style.

—Mr. Sydney, the manager of the Jennie Light Combination, is to be congratulated on the way he has billed this city. No one can pass the boards without being attracted thereby. The work is neat and tasty.

—The Finance Committee of the Temple of Honor and Citizens' Committees, and all others who have sold tickets, are requested to meet at the office of Dimock & Hayner, on Saturday (to-morrow) at 9 o'clock.

—A fifteen-month-old son of Johnny Peters, fell down the back steps of his grandmother's house in the First ward, and broke his forearm about half way between the wrist and the elbow. Dr. Sanborn was called in, and fixed the little sufferer up.

—The many friends of Dr. H. P. Strong, of Beloit will be saddened at learning of the death of his infant son, after a sickness of four weeks. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon. Six similar afflictions have fallen upon the Doctor and his family during the past few years.

—Miss Lizzie Blinn has returned from a month's visit to the East, and will meet the Baptist church choir for rehearsal, on Saturday evening at the usual time—half past seven o'clock. Miss Blinn spent three delightful weeks at Chautauque Lake, New York, after which she visited her father, at Williamsfield, Ohio.

—Charlie Hollister has opened up his Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine agency in the counting room of the Gazette, and will be found there during business hours ready to show the workings of this favorite machine to any and all who desire. The agency is in good hands, and the sales will doubtless continue to increase.

—Dan McCanna, of Beloit, who was lodged in jail here for sixty days for exposing his person, was at work in the chain-gang last Wednesday. He isn't there now. He was sent after a pail of water and didn't come back. The officers are after him now with a warrant for the larceny of the pail and chain which he juggled off with him.

—Howe's great London Show made a fine street parade as all know who saw it. Nearly every one in estimating the number of persons, horses and vehicles in the procession will guess too many. For the benefit of the curious ones, an actual count was taken which shows that there were in the procession 93 persons, 104 horses and ponies, and 27 vehicles, cages, chariots, etc.

—The Janesville Guards met last night and adopted a constitution and by-laws. The boys have placed themselves under strict rules, which provide fines for every species of disobedience to orders, tardiness or neglect. They are not allowed to enter any saloon while having on any part of the uniform, and in fact are bound to conduct themselves in such a manner that no reproach can come upon the company.

—Shortly after the two suspicious fellows were arrested on circus day for picking pockets, M. M. Phelps' boy found a pocket book containing $10, which the fellows had apparently thrown away to escape detection. Just as the boy picked it up, a man stepped up and took it away from him saying his name was "Keating," and he would take care of it. The boy supposed at the time that it was the Marshal, but has since found his mistake. Whose pocket has been picked?

—The mystery of the report of a revolver and a pool of blood on Mrs. Zeilinger's sidewalk, has been solved. The blood did not come from the dry goods box, as that was well seasoned, and could not be made to bleed by a drunken foot striking it with a cane. The fact is, a bloody tragedy occurred, which resulted in the instant death of the victim. A company of serenaders were indulging in a midnight song, when one of the occupants of an adjacent building raised the window, and fired his revolver at the crowd. One fell upon the sidewalk dead, and the rest hurried away in flight.

—The murderer hesitated down stairs to see the result of his shot, and was there greeted by a night watchman who had heard the report and hurried to the spot. An examination of the body showed that it was the lifeless form of a cat, that lay there sweetening in its own blood. The corpse was hurriedly carried to the river, and there sunk beneath the dark waters.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 63 degrees above, and at 2 o'clock this afternoon at 81 degrees above. Clear. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 62 and 63 degrees above.

The indications to-day are for the Ohio valley and lake region, clear or partly cloudy weather, cold northerly, veering to warmer south and east winds, stationary or lower pressure.

CLOSING THE STORES.

We, the undersigned, hereby agree to close our respective places of business at eight o'clock p. m., excepting Saturdays, to commence on September 1, 1878, and to continue until further notice.

FRISKY FRANK.

Dickerson, the Alleged Murderer—Attacks a Deputy Sheriff—A Lively Scene Behind the Bars.

There was a lively scene for a few minutes at the jail, this morning. Frank Dickerson, who is imprisoned there on the charge of being one of the Mack murderers, indulged in a fit of frenzy from some unknown cause. When the prisoners were given their breakfasts he paced up and down in a very angry manner, and answered in a surly manner all inquiries as to what the matter was. Shortly after breakfast a noise was heard, and Deputy Sheriff Marsh going to the door saw Dickerson swinging a club in close proximity to the heads of his fellow-prisoners. Some of the prisoners were playing cards and Dickerson in a tantalizing way struck the table with a heavy thud. The prisoners were afraid to offer any resistance, and Marsh on seeing the condition of affairs called to Dickerson to bring the club to him and give it up. Dickerson refused with an oath and a threat. Marsh stepped into the office and took a billy, and then entered the cell-room. Marsh locking the door after him. He repeated his request and stepped toward Dickerson, who squared himself for fight. Just as he raised the club, Marsh jumped upon him, and grasped him by the throat. Dickerson tried to set his teeth into Marsh's arm, and the latter then drew the billy and struck him. He fell back, and retreated as far as the tub when he fell down. Marsh helped him to his feet again, but had no sooner done so than Dickerson attacked him again. Marsh struck him again with his fist, knocking him down. Dickerson then begged. He said he had enough and would give up the club. He accordingly surrendered, and will now have a chance to enjoy life by himself in the dark cell.

SWIFT JUDGMENT.

A Criminal Convicted, and Sent to Waupun within 24 Hours after His Arrest.

Punishment is quite apt to speedily follow any criminality within the boundaries of Rock county, but to-day a case goes upon record which is among the speediest of the speedy. William Curry, a Michigan barber, was yesterday afternoon arrested for robbing a fellow traveler named St. John, of about $400 at Watertown, where they were both stopping at a hotel. This morning he was brought before Justice Prichard and waived examination. He was at once taken before the upper court, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. This afternoon he was taken in charge of an officer and left for Waupun, so that in twenty-four hours from the time of his arrest, he was bound for the penitentiary. Curry it seems had been for some time watching for an opportunity to get hold of the money. He saw St. John draw it out of the bank in Charlotte, Michigan, and accompanied him as a friend on his journey as far as Watertown where the robbery occurred. At the time St. John discovered his loss, Curry claimed to have been robbed also, and even pawned his watch for $4 claiming that he had no money left. All of the time he had Curry's money in the lining of his coat, and pawned the watch as a blind. He says now that he intended after a while to return the stolen money. The money was recovered except about $9, and St. John has gone on his way rejoicing, while Curry will to-night be behind the bars.

HELPING THE SUFFERING.

The subscription papers are being circulated for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers and the citizens seem to be freely giving of their money. The entertainment at Lappin's hall tonight will doubtless swell the fund. An interesting programme has been arranged. The Power City Band will give three selections. Mr. O. H. Fetters will give two readings. Mrs. H. A. Smith and Mrs. C. E. Moseley will sing a duet, as will also Mrs. Smith and Mrs. C. B. Conrad. Mrs. Jennie Kempton will sing a solo, and there will also be a double male quartet, consisting of G. A. Newman, Will. Follansbee, Charles Church, M. M. Constant, D. D. Bennett, C. G. Titcomb, J. H. Wingate and Will. Bladen. The entertainment will be of a high order and the hall should be crowded. At the conclusion of the entertainment a social dance will be given in Apollo hall. The citizens generally will need no urging, it is thought, but will crowd in and make this worthy enterprise a grand success.

Worcester's Pocket Dictionary.

We have just received from the publishers, J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, a copy of this really valuable little volume. Worcester's Quarto Dictionary is the standard authority of the majority of the scholars of America and England, and from it the abridgment now before us has been most carefully compiled. It is a complete vide-mecum for the general reader and correspondent, containing, besides a profusely illustrated vocabulary of over eighteen thousand words, lists of foreign words and phrases, abbreviations, rules for spelling, numerical tables, etc. The publishers will mail this work to any address on receipt of the price, 68 cents.

OUT ON THE FLY.

There was a fine exhibition of ball-playing in Chicago yesterday afternoon. The Bostonians and Chicagoans had each scored 4 at the end of the ninth inning. In the tenth inning the Bostonians secured the victory the total score being: Boston 8, Chicago 7.

The Cincinnati's scored 2 and the Providence club were whitewashed in yesterday's game.

The Milwaukee defeated the Indianapolis club 11 to 4.

FROM OXFORDVILLE.

OXFORDVILLE, Wis., Aug. 30th, 1878.—Yesterday was the first time in the history of this usually quiet village, when two funerals occurred on the same day, and both calling out so large a concourse of people. Mr. Daniel Majer and Mr. Fisher died at nearly the same moment, 10 o'clock p. m., the 27th. The funeral of Mr. Majer was held at 10 o'clock, under the united management of the Odd Fellows and Sons of Temperance, he being a member of both orders. Delegations of these orders were in attendance from Hanover, Footville and Bredford, and all under the direction of James Mowe, Esq. He has been a resident in this vicinity for several years, and for the last two years in the employ of Mr. S. T. Green. He was soon to have been married to Miss Mary Gray, who followed his remains to the grave as principal mourner, a cousin present being his only relative in this country. He has a father living in the Isle of Guernsey. Mr. Majer was a young man about 25 years old, most highly esteemed and will be greatly missed by his associates, and acquaintances. His sickness, congestion of the lungs, was of short duration. Services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Eldredge, of Footville, assisted by the pastor, Rev. D. O. Sanborn.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS.

Their Semi-Annual Gathering at Clinton.

The Rock County Sunday School Convention met for its semi-annual meeting at Clinton, August 28th, at 9 a. m. In the absence of the President and Vice President, Rev. W. D. Webb was called to the chair. Rev. G. S. Hubbs gave a humorous and hearty welcome responded to by the chair.

The following report was then read by the Secretary, George J. Kellogg:

This Association was organized in 1868, at the Baptist church in Janesville, since which time the Association has held twenty-two conventions, as follows: Five at Janesville, four at Evansville, four at Milton, four at Clinton, three at Beloit, two at Edgerton, one at Shopiere and the August meeting of 1877 is not on record. Beside these it has held one grand Sunday School Mass Convention at Janesville June 8, 1873. The estimated attendance was 5,000. It was addressed by Governor Fairchild, Superintendent Fallows and others. The Secretary's books show their are about seventy-five Sunday Schools in the county, thirty-nine of which reported 451 officers and teachers, 4,300 scholars and $2,107.23 money collected. The Secretary also read the resolutions adopted at the last Convention taking high grounds on the temperance and tobacco question.

Prof. Schilling, of Delavan, gave an interesting account of the manner of teaching the mutes, for which the house gave him a vote of thanks. President J. C. McLean arrived at 10:30 a. m., and took the chair.

The Secretary then presented to the Committee from the Sunday School Publishing House of D. C. Cook, of Chicago, a large package of officers', teachers', and scholars' quarters and illuminated lesson leaves, for the use of the Convention.

The following Committee on Programme was appointed: Messrs. Hubbs, Dawson and Porter.

The following were appointed as a Committee on Resolutions: Messrs. Whitney, Buell and Miss Mary Colver.

Prof. H. M. Whitney, of Beloit, gave an interesting address on "How to Open a Sunday School." A number of three-minute speeches followed.

In the afternoon the exercises opened with a song service led by Father Cheney. Prof. Porter, of Beloit, conducted a Bible class exercise. C. A. Willard, of West DePere, gave an address on "The organization of Sunday-School work throughout the State." Three-minute speeches followed. Delegates from different parts of the county gave brief but encouraging reports and adjournment was taken till evening.

In the evening a very interesting and profitable sermon was delivered by Prof. H. M. Whitney, of Beloit.

Thursday morning the session opened with a devotional exercise led by W. E. Lewis, of Watertown, Statistical Secretary of the State Association. Other reports were received from the delegates. Rev. A. L. P. Loomis, of Milton, read an essay on "Culture of Mission Spirit in Sunday Schools." Brief speeches followed, and an interesting session of answering queries which had been placed in the Question Box.

Mr. W. E. Lewis and Mr. C. A. Willard gave brief addresses and adjournment was taken.

Thursday afternoon the exercises opened with a most delightful feat of song. The Convention enjoyed a lesson exercise on Bible chronology illustrated by chart, by Rev. E. M. Dunn, one of the most interesting features and exercises of the day. Such a chart should hang in every Sunday school of the land. Rev. E. L. Eaton, of Beloit, sang, "The Palace of the King," very finely. A children's meeting was held at 3 o'clock, addressed by Prof. G. M. Schilling, illustrating and talking in the sign language. R. Cheney gave an address and song. Rev. W. F. Brown also addressed the children. "Singing for Jesus" was sung by Rev. E. L. Eaton. An address by Rev. C. C. Marston, Clinton, on "The Study of the Lesson," closed that feature of the programme. After a brief recess a practical showing of infant class teaching was given by Mrs. B. B. Olds, of Clinton. The Question Box was again brought out. It called forth original thoughts and practical application of ways and means to solve the difficult problems in this work.

Thursday evening a crowded house listened to stirring addresses from C. A. Willard and W. E. Lewis.

The following resolutions were presented by the chairman of the committee on resolutions, and were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we heartily thank our Clinton friends for their kind entertainment. By long experience we have learned to take for granted that in coming here we shall find a free hospitality, a large attendance at our sessions and an intelligent interest in our aims and discussions.

Resolved, That we have been glad to hear from Bro. C. A. Willard and Bro. W. E. Lewis as to the plans for a thorough county and township organization of the State for Sunday school work. We realize the importance of the work that has been undertaken and will do what we can to help them.

Resolved, That we send this message to the churches and schools which are rarely or never represented at our meetings: Dear Brethren, We find our sessions exceedingly pleasant and profitable, and we go up to them as to a feast; we believe that they grow in interest and profit, giving us a warmer personal interest in those whom we so often meet and sending us home wiser and more earnest for our work. We want you to come and share with us in these good things.

CITY NOTICES.

A Well-Garnished Toilet.

No toilet is complete without Sozodont. It combines all that is needed to keep the mouth and teeth healthful, and imparts a delicious fragrance to the breath. Its use should never be intermitted, as the mouth needs to be kept pure and clean, and by nothing better than Sozodont can this be effected.

Spaldine's Glue is indispensable in the house, because there are always small breaks occurring which it will repair.

—Just received at Sutherland's, a splendid line of Albums, Family Bibles, Fancy Box Stationery, &c. If you are in need of anything in their line, do not fail to call at the only complete bookstore in Southern Wisconsin. New goods daily arriving.
